SEVERAL AREAS MINUS ELECTRIC SERVICE FRIDAY

Metropolitan Edison electric service in the north section of Gettysburg was interrupted a second time on Friday afternoon when high winds blew water-soaked feeder lines together, shorting them and burning them off in two sections of the town. A noontime short circuit on W. Water St. had caused a previous one-hour interruption. Lights were out in Lincoln Square for awhile early Friday evening.

Not only were homes in the north section of Gettysburg without power or lights from 2:37 p.m. until service was restored at 4:50 p.m. but sections on Lincolnway West as far as Seven Stars, a part of the Harrisburg Rd., the Hunterstown Rd., Lincolnway East, Bonneville Rd. and Bonneville itself, were without electricity.

Trouble came almost simultaneously at two places, at 2:30 p.m. The first was on N. Stratton St. where the feeder lines cross the Western Maryland tracks, and the second at the rear of the Gettysburg Motors, York St.

WGET Without Current
A nearby resident saw the flashes when the wires in the rear of York St. shorted and telephoned the Gettysburg Fire Department. Their services were not needed, however, and they returned within a few minutes.

Radio Station WGET was one of the users affected by the power failure, and was off the air until service was restored at 4:50 p.m. Partial service to Bonneville and Lincolnway East was restored in an hour and a half.

The Adams Electric Cooperative reported the only trouble it experienced was no power failures in Adams County. C. A. Cluck, manager, said.

Interrupt Phone Service
John E. Caldwell, district manager for the United Telephone Co., said rain leaking into cables caused "several hundred" telephone subscribers to be without service for varying periods of time.

The Gettysburg Fire Company worked throughout the night to hold back the flood waters, or remove it.

FARMERS HOLD ANNUAL MEET AT MT. JOY TODAY

Reports on the activities of the Adams County Agriculture Extension Association during the past year were presented to 70 members attending the annual sessions of the unit at Mt. Joy Parish hall this morning. The 37th annual meeting will conclude this afternoon.

Noting that "farming today is big business, where there must be efficient management if keen competition is to be met," County Agent M. T. Hartman told the group: "The Agriculture Extension Association conducts an educational program available to all of the people without charge. What its program will be, what it will stress, what it will devote most of its time to, is decided by the people of the county. We are here to give whatever information the people of the county want. The nature and extent of our work is determined by the type of agriculture best suited to the county, rather than any attempt to change farmers into some other kind of farmers."

Farm-Based Economy Here

Supported by county, state and federal funds, the Extension service "is at the service of townspeople as well as the farmer," Hartman explained. "In the past few years we have had calls from many townspeople for aid we can give them in care of lawns, ornamental shrubbery, and to a large extent, the care of gardens. The town person with a garden is as much worried by plant insect and disease conditions as is the farmer with a lot of acres. And the details on sprays and management that help the farmer also help the garden owner."

"In Adams County, within a half century or so our population reversed. Once 85 percent of our people were farmers, today only 15 percent are farmers. The change has placed a heavier responsibility on the farmer of today, and it has made competition keener. The farmer today who is an inefficient producer, with low yields of low quality foods has no chance of staying in business. Because our county's economy is based

Over Five Inches Of Rain Here Since Last Saturday

Climaxing eight consecutive days of rainy weather here that followed a fall so dry that hunters were barred from woods and fields early this month, 2.24 inches of rain fell in the 24-hour period ending at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

Friday and Friday night's rains brought to 5.69 inches the total precipitation here since the showers started last Saturday morning and brought the total for November to 6 inches, which more than double the month's normal 2.84 inches. It is just short of last November's total of 6.31 inches but that figure may yet be attained with the weather man forecasting more showers today and tonight.

Fog, unusually high temperatures that frequently climbed into the 60's accompanied the last week's rains here.

COLOR GUARD MAY MARCH IN PARADE FOR IKE

A six-man color guard wearing Civil War costumes may participate in the inaugural parade at Washington January 20, if plans of the Gettysburg Camp of the Sons of Union Veterans are approved.

Commander Chester Shriver told the local SUV at its meeting Friday night in the GAR post rooms that he has conferred with Fire Company President William G. Weaver and County Republican Chairman John H. Basehore and offered the services of a Civil War uniform clad color guard from the SUV for the inauguration.

He said both had been receptive to the idea, but that final decision will rest on how large a contingent Adams County is allowed in the parade. Chairman Basehore is calling a committee within the near future to contact inauguration parade officials to determine what representation can be placed in the parade, Shriver said.

The SUV commander added that "from the enthusiasm I've heard, I think half the county will be in Washington January 20 if it can be arranged."

Paul Snyder reported on the November 19 observance held jointly by the Lincoln Fellowship and the SUV. Jesse E. Snyder reported that repairs are needed to the roof of the GAR post home, with the heavy rain showing that leaks have developed.

The storm now centers over Ohio and winds were diminishing in Pennsylvania in the early morning hours.

Reports from throughout the state indicated a light rainfall in most sections, none at all in the Philadelphia area and moderate precipitation at Allentown and Williamsport.

A Kunkle, Pa., man was killed yesterday when he was struck by a car while walking along rain swept Rt. 309 about 8 miles west of Wilkes-Barre.

Oliver Hoyt, 65, of R. 1, was hit by a car driven by Steven Glova, of Harvey's Lake, Pa., police said.

Dallas Township Police Chief James Gensel said visibility was "very poor" due to the rain when the accident occurred.

Tape Recordings Of Inauguration Given To College

Two complete copies of the tape recording of the inauguration of Dr. Walter C. Langsam, eighth president of Gettysburg College, were presented to the college Friday afternoon by Radio Station WGET.

Dr. Langsam was inaugurated October 25 at impressive ceremonies on Memorial Field. WGET broadcast the program and made a tape recording of the event.

Dr. Langsam was presented one of the tapes for his personal use and the second copy was presented to him for preservation in the archives of the college. Murray Goldsborough, station manager, made the presentation in Dr. Langsam's office.

Preparing Code Sheets

When completed, each truck will talk to the central radio station here or to each other by number. The number system will save confusion, fire officials said. If truck eight is called, for example, Fairfield will know exactly which of its trucks is needed. If each truck were designated by town and number, transmission time would be increased an 0.15 chance for error in designation would increase.

Members of the fire departments are visiting the fire engine house with their equipment to receive training in operation of the radio sets. When all are equipped, William G. Weaver, coordinator for Civil Defense in the county, said, a general meeting of all fire truck radio operators will be held to brief the men on operation of the radios and net-work. A code sheet giving details of the procedure to be used in operation of the radios is being prepared by Murray Miller, radio operator for the Gettysburg central station, for distribution to the various radio operators on the 30 trucks in the county.

After that several tests will be held.

That the communications system works was proven Thursday. Donald Staub, Gettysburg fire marshal, was sent to East Berlin with a Gettysburg truck to stand by in event of fire there while the East Berlin trucks were at Gettysburg to have radios installed. He heard a call on the radio, and followed, from East Berlin, the progress of the fire being fought here in Gettysburg, through the reports being transmitted from the trucks to the fire house here.

Adams County paid $5,225.55 in tax in order to transfer their properties. A total of $3,860.60 was paid in state tax, $480 in federal tax and the Upper Adams Joint School District received $884.95 in deed taxes paid on properties sold without that district.

That assessed values in the county are far below actual values of the property was proven again by the month's sales of farms, lots, and homes. The assessed valuation of the 79 properties was $78,057, or about one-fourth of the amount the properties brought when sold.

The largest number of sales was in Cumberland Twp. and McSherrytown, with seven properties sold in each during October. Six each were recorded for Straban Twp. and Gettysburg, five each in Butler, Franklin, Littlestown, and Mt. Joy, four in Conewago; three each in Abbotstown, Freedom, Menallen, Mt. They said the car was registered in the name of Clifford Chapman, Orrtanna R. 1.

Find 2 Servicemen Lost In Georgia Swamps 6 Weeks

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Rail-thin and gaunt, two young servicemen were taking it easy today after being lost for a month and a half in the sprawling Okefenokee swamplands of south Georgia.

Seventeen-year-old William E. Denham, an apprentice naval aviator, credited "thoughts of mother and God with bringing me out."

His companion, Pfc. George Anderson of the Marine Corps, was quick to give his famed brand of the service a share of praise.

"Only my previous good training in the Marine Corps and my determination to be reunited with my family saved me," said the 21-year-old soldier.

NEWMAN CLUB NAMES OFFICERS TO COUNTY CLUB

Officers were elected at a meeting of the recently reorganized Newman Club of Gettysburg College Wednesday evening at St. Francis Xavier's School. Those named were: President, George A. Miller Jr.; secretary, Miss Janelle Naylor; treasurer, John Schreiver.

The club, which presently numbers 107 Catholic students at the college, will meet the first and third Wednesdays of the month until the end of the school year. Rev. Fr. Wallace Sawdy has been named moderator of the group.

The Newman club was originally formed as an aid to Catholic students attending secular institutions enabling them to receive religious instruction through their regular meetings.

An executive committee, comprising officers and senior members of the club, will plan the program for the year. Robert Sorrell is chairman of the funds committee.

Rev. Fr. Sawdy outlined the history of the vestments worn by the priest at mass in the study session Wednesday. The next meeting will be held December 3 at 8 p.m. at St. Francis Xavier's School. There will be a program and refreshments.

LAWYER TALKS TO COUNTRY CLUB

The work of the lawyer and the aid he can render his clients was outlined to the Senior Extension Club Thursday evening by Attorney Donald M. Swope at a meeting of the club held at the Gettysburg High School.

Attorney Swope described how law suits begin, the steps that are taken to bring a suit to trial and gave details of how trials before the court are conducted. He described how lawyers also aid their clients in the preparation of wills and deeds, in the settling of estates and other details of law work.

Nancy Shanbrook outlined the program for the annual Alumni night to be held next Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Biglerville grade school auditorium. All past and present members of the club are invited, she said. A magician will present an act and games and dancing are also scheduled.

Further plans were made by the club for participation in the annual State Farm Show rural youth program. Betty Ecker and Edwin Brandon are in charge of correlating Adams County Senior Extension activities in connection with the Farm Show program.

A Christmas party will be held December 18 at Bendersville, the club voted.

Plans were clubbed for participation by the club members in the annual meeting of the Adams County Agricultural Extension Association to be held Saturday at Mt. Joy parish house.

from cellars of local homes. Three trucks and ten men were on duty most of the night. At the college one pump worked throughout the night to prevent the water flooding into the furnace room and putting out the fires.

Other trucks reported to various places throughout the town to pump cellars or clear storm sewers.

The windstorm caused the smokestack at the local furniture plant to break from its moorings and threaten to crash through high tension wires and the factory roof. Considerable damage to the plant and equipment was averted by the prompt response of Williamsport steeplejacks and employees of the factory to an emergency call. The men worked all night under hazardous conditions to prevent the stack from falling. The men were in danger of being electrocuted if the stack fell and short-circuited the 4,600 volt power line as they were wet through and the roof was covered with water from the constantly falling rain. In addition to the danger caused by their proximity to the teetering stack. Finally the upper part of the stack was removed and the lower part secured with no harm to anyone.

saunt and battery.

Gets Suspended Sentence

Gerald C. Hartlaub Jr., 18, McSherrystown, was given a suspended sentence, placed on probation for one year and ordered to make restitution of $50 and pay the costs on a charge of malicious mischief. He was ordered to pay a fine of $100 and costs on a charge of assault and battery. He told the court that he had not been involved in some shooting on two farms in which the porcelain holders on lightning rods were shot away, a paint bucket was punctured, holes were shot in barn roofs and windows, causing a total of $75 damage, nor did he take part in any fights. He said that he just happened to be driving two other fellows who carried out the depredations.

Judge Sheely said "It is rather a coincidence you were just along when these things happened, particularly since you were driving the car." Hartlaub said, "It certainly was a coincidence."

Has Optional Sentence

John R. Bowers, Gettysburg R. 1, was given a suspended sentence if he pays $150 for the use of the county and costs on a charge of operating an automobile after his license was suspended.

Richard Laughman, Hanover R. 3, was sentenced to 45 days in jail on three charges, all to run concurrently, and ordered to pay the costs. He was told that since it was directed that the sentences should start October 4 he would be free to go if he would pay the costs. Laughman faced charges of operating without the owner's consent, larceny of a hog, and operating after suspension. The youth told the court he took two hogs from his employer, Stewart P. Mehring, Berwick Twp., because he said, "Mehringer still owed me $20 for the last week I worked for him." He said he got $8 for the two hogs. On further questioning he said that he received $15 a week from Mehring for working for him. The court then asked how he figured he was owed $20 for the last week. Laughman said, "Last week I worked a week and a half."

BOTH PRO GRID LOOPS MAY BE TIED UP TIGHT

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League could well be all tied up in knots after tomorrow's games with four teams deadlocked for first place in the National conference and three in the American division.

You probably could name your own odds but this would be the situation if New York, Philadelphia, Chicago Bears, Green Bay and Los Angeles will win:

San Francisco, Detroit, Green Bay and Los Angeles would be tied for the National conference lead, each with six victories and three defeats. The American conference would have Cleveland, New York and Philadelphia all-square, also each with a 6-3 record.

49ers Meet Rams
Going into tomorrow's games, San Francisco and Detroit are tied for first place in the National division. The 49ers meet the surging champion Los Angeles Rams, on the comeback trail after dropping three of their first four games.

The Detroit Lions journey to Wrigley Field, where the Bears have lost three of their four home games.

In the American conference, the pace-setting Cleveland Browns will attempt to protect their slim lead against Philadelphia, tied for second with the New York Giants. The Giants invade Washington.

Green Bay's Packers figure to stay in the title picture by beating the winless—and homeless—Dallas Texans.

Top Game At Los Angeles
Only the Chicago Cardinals at Pittsburgh game don't figure in the championship race.

Picking the top game from this schedule-maker's dream depends on what team you are rooting for but from a spectator standpoint the No. 1 contest is likely to be at Los Angeles. A crowd of 60,000 is expected to see the Rams challenge the 49ers for the lead.

The game figures to be a battle between the Rams Norm Van Brocklin, the passing wizard, and the legs of rookie Hugh McElhenny and Joe Perry of the 49ers. Van Brocklin is the league's No. 1 passer with 49 completions in 115 attempts for an average gain of 8.27 yards. Against the Bears last week he tossed touchdown aerials of 84, 61, 56 and 20 yards.

Lions, Browns To Win
The 49ers have picked up 1,500 yards this season with 589 credited to McElhenny and 487 to Perry. That puts them third and fourth, respectively, behind Eddie Price of the New York Giants and the Rams' Dan Towler.

The Lions, backed by five straight wins, and with All-American Leon Hart back in shape, figure to down the Bears before some 40,000 fans.

The Browns rule a 13½-point choice over the Eagles. The Giants who have played their best ball on the road, are an 11-point pick over Washington. Green Bay is selected to beat the Texans by 21 and Pittsburgh is a five-point choice over the Cards.

ONE OR BOTH OF ROSE BOWL 11'S PICKED TODAY

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—At least one—and possibly both—of the teams that will play in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day will be determined today, the final big Saturday of the college football season.

Two of the nation's undefeated, untied squads—Southern California and UCLA—will go at it before more than 100,000 spectators at Los Angeles and millions of TV viewers for the Pacific Coast title and the Rose Bowl bid that goes with it.

May Decide Big 10
The Big 10 representative also may be decided. Wisconsin, which hasn't won a league championship since 1912, needs only to beat Minnesota to do no worse than tie for the title.

If the Badgers win and Michigan defeats Ohio State—a tougher assignment—the two winners will finish deadlocked and a conference vote will be necessary. Since Michigan was in the Tournament of Roses two years ago, the vote probably would go to the Badgers.

If both lose, however, Purdue whips Indiana, the Boiler-makers and Minnesota will wind up tied for the crown. This also would necessitate a vote to decide who goes to Pasadena.

Game At 5 P.M.
The Southern California-UCLA game, scheduled to get under way at 5 p. m., EST, has been rated pretty much of a toss-up all week. Both are single wing outfits, have scoring potential but rely mostly on defense, and are spearheaded by top-notch halfbacks—Jimmy Sears of the Trojans and Paul Cameron of the Uclans.

It boils down to the fact that the team which can tally at all will be at a great advantage, since the experts agree there isn't going to be much scoring.

The only other major bowl that still is undecided on the teams is the Orange, and that should be clarified somewhat.

Three In Running
Pitt, Alabama and Syracuse all are in the running, with the last named having what should be a romp against Fordham. This will be the first time in many years New York has seen a team that has bowl possibilities.

Pitt and Alabama both have rough tasks. The Panthers go against Penn State, once a bowl candidate, but now an also-rail. The Nittany Lions still can give anyone a battle, though.

Alabama, beaten last week, has the most unenviable assignment—Maryland. The Terps, downed by Mississippi last week, will be in a nasty mood. But "Bama" has a solid outfit, and should give a good account of itself.

Patrolman Finds Daughter Killed
NEW YORK (AP)—Radio car patrolman Vincent Salamoni heard the report of a fatal accident last night on a Flushing, Queens, street and said:

"That's right near my house. I hope it isn't my wife and baby, they should be coming home about this time."

Speeding to the scene with patrolman Louis Trossi, Salamoni learned that his six-year-old daughter, Gayl, was dead and that his wife, Estelle, 27, had been critically injured.

The woman and girl were struck by a car driven by Teh Chuan Yu, 34, a Chinese insurance broker. The victims had started to cross the street after getting off a bus in Flushing.

Yu was released by police after questioning.

Walker Quits Campaign for Floor Leader
HARRISBURG (AP)—The way was cleared today for Sen. Rowland B. Mahany to take over as Republican floor leader in the 1953 Legislature with the withdrawal from the race for the post by Sen. John M. Walker.

Walker, Allegheny County Republican who piloted the GOP majority through the 1949 and 1951 sessions, announced his withdrawal last night with a sharp attack on Gov. J. M. Fine.

Fine earlier this week had endorsed the candidacy of Mahany for the post. Mahany, a Crawford County Republican, was chairman of the Senate State Government Committee in the marathon 1951 session.

Walker only a week ago had predicted that he would have a majority of GOP senators behind him and would retain the post he has held through two difficult sessions.

Maureen Connolly Wins Singles Title

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—America's top woman player, Maureen Connolly, and Australia's ace, Frank Sedgman, won the singles championships today in the wind-up of the New South Wales tennis tournament.

A capacity crowd of 11,000 saw Miss Connolly win the women's crown by beating Julie Sampson, San Marino, Calif., 6-3, 6-2, and Sedgman down his fellow countryman, Ken McGregor, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2 for the men's title.

Select Leader Monday
The GOP floor leader actually will not be chosen until the Republican caucus meets in a pre-session conference at Hershey on Monday. Mahany, however, now stands unopposed for the post.

Walker, who led a senate Republican revolt against the one half of one per cent flat income tax proposed by Gov. Fine during the 1951 session, issued a statement saying that Fine's opposition to him "is endangering the success of my party and is embarrassing many of my friends and colleagues."

"This I will not tolerate any longer," declared the senator. He added:

"To guarantee the success of my party, to protect my friends and to insure friendly cooperation between the Senate, the House and the Governor's office, I am withdrawing as a candidate for reelection as Republican floor leader in the Senate."

TREASURES

Anyone who has ever noticed a mother handle her baby has looked upon the greatest treasure a mother can own. All the wealth of the world could not purchase that treasure of hers! Intrinsically a treasure may be worth very little but on the other hand it may be priceless.

A friend of mine, who has under his charge in a great University library rare volumes of books, wrote to me recently telling of a visitor who was a lover of books, and he said it was a joy to see how carefully and with what a gleam of love in his eyes, he handled each volume. Great books are treasures that cannot adequately be appraised. Their influence is endless.

Chauncey Brewster Tinker, the lovable Yale University teacher,
in summing up his life's work,
stated that his students were his treasures. We, who have been under the instruction and influence of teachers in school and college,
may well say that our teachers have been our treasures, for they have inspired us in great measure throughout the years.

A genuine friend is a treasure
it often takes a lifetime to discover! Rarer than the purest gold or the most perfect gem from the bowels of the earth. How strange that this most valuable of treasures is so often neglected in our search.
Merely to merit a true friend is to be an outstanding success!

In nature are displayed treasures beyond the imagination of man to duplicate. Every blade of grass, every flower, every burst of song from the throat of a bird, every formation of cloud, every star in the heavens, and every son of the sea — all are earth's treasures, freely offered to us all. Appreciation alone is the price exacted for these treasures.

You don't have to worry about the treasures you plant, or store away in your heart. There they remain until transferred to their heavenly haven.

Just Folks

THE QUITTER

He quit! Both weary and afraid and where he ceased to try he stayed,
But one with courage still to try
Though just as weary passed him
by.

The quitter, striving for the top, Remains where he decides to stop,
And thus he lets his rival know
No further will he dare to go.

Oh, whether it be work or game
With quitters all it's still the same,
When they drop out they pass the chance
To some one eager to advance.

He may succeed who battles on Until the last faint hope is gone,
But this is proved in many ways
That where he stops the quitter stays.

WILSON FACES
TOUGH JOB IN DEFENSE POST

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles Erwin Wilson's comment about giving the defense secretary job the "darndest whirl it ever had" can work both ways.

The job has given four men a whirl in the last four years.

Wilson was named yesterday as President-elect Eisenhower's selection as the next secretary of defense. That the president of General Motors faces a tough assignment is shown by the fact that:

The first secretary resigned and,
broken by the immense burden of his job, committed suicide.

The second one was fired.

The third one, a soldier by profession, dutifully served out his assignment for a year, then resigned.

Fourth Wants Obscurity

The present one let it be known some months ago before he knew the election would bring a change in administration, that he intended to leave government. He now says he is more anxious than ever, as he puts it, to go back as rapidly as possible to what he hopes will be moderately prosperous obscurity.

Even the gigantic General Motors
Corp., which Wilson heads and which, at Eisenhower's request he is leaving to come to Washington, is dwarfed by the proportions of the business he will manage as defense chief.

There is a noteworthy aspect to Wilson's job change: A much bigger job produces a much smaller pay check. The general impression is that his 1951 salary and bonuses totaled about $626,300.
He'll get $22,500 from the federal government—and no bonus.

Forrestal Was First

First man appointed to the job
after unification of the Army, Navy and Air Force and creation of the Defense Department in 1948 was James Forrestal, investment banker. He got things going but, broken by the burden, left his job and then took his life.

Louis Johnson was named to succeed him. President Truman ousted him.

Truman turned to a man he had long admired and appointed to previous high jobs, including that of secretary of state. He chose five-star Gen. George C. Marshall.

Robert A. Lovett, present secretary, like Forrestal, is an investment banker. He works hard at his job but, unlike Forrestal, does not worry about it. A sense of humor, sometimes sardonic, saves
him. He has been in government work, with only a short break,
since early in World War II.

Fanatical Reds
Are Smashed
In Wild Drive
At Sniper Ridge

SEOUL (AP)—Allied infantrymen smashed a fanatical Chinese assault Friday on Sniper Ridge — on the Central Korean Front—and stopped lesser attacks elsewhere
on the battle line.

In the air, American Sabre jets clashed with MIG15s for the fifth successive day and pilots reported one destroyed—by Lt. Richard B.
Smith Jr., Medford, Ore. He damaged one Thursday.

Allied fighter-bombers ranged over a wide area of North Korea.
Pilots said they wiped out 70 buildings, seven guns and cut rails in five places. They also pounded the Communist battline.

Despite the fierceness of the Red infantry attacks, a U. S. Eighth Army spokesman said the Allies
lost no ground.

A Red battalion slammed against Pinpoint Hill, the dominating spot
of Sniper Ridge Thursday night.
The Communists supported their assaults with a tremendous barrage of mortar and artillery.

It was cold — 10 degrees above zero.

Suicide Drive Fails

Both sides kept up a crackling
exchange of gunfire, and early Friday morning a suicide platoon of Chinese charged Sniper Ridge, hurling hand grenades when they got near the ROK foxholes. But the South Koreans held their ground and shortly after dawn the Chinese pulled out.

Eighth Army Headquarters reported a series of Communist attacks all along the 155-mile battle line. On the extreme Eastern Front, North Korean troops stabbed twice last night and twice this morning at Allied positions south of Kosong in the Anchor Hill sector. All the probes were driven off.

On the Western Front, west of Yonchon, Chinese platoons attacked
two outposts in early morning darkness and U. N. troops withdrew temporarily. Allied field guns punneled the enemy and Allied forces reoccupied the positions without opposition.

Hand-To-Hand Fight

On the Central Front, southeast of Capitol Hill, 175 Chinese hit an Allied outpost early Friday and engaged U. N. defenders in hand-to-hand fighting. The battle raged for three hours until Eighth Army troops brought up reinforcements and the Chinese broke contact at 5:30 a.m. and withdrew.

Light bombers of the U. S. Fifth Air Force hunted trucks a second successive night and reported destruction of 175 Communist supply vehicles on main routes in North Korea. This raised to 350 the total of vehicles knocked out in two nights.

Dulles Asks FBI To Investigate His Life

NEW YORK (AP)—John Foster
Dulles, designated as next secretary of state, said Friday he has asked J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, to investigate "my life and record."

Dulles told correspondents at a brief press conference at President-elect Eisenhower's headquarters
"There is going to be no taint of suspicion about the new state department."

"That goes for the top, bottom and all in between."

Belgium Delegate Leaves

The French delegation voted in Spain's favor, on instructions from Premier Antoine Pinay's cabinet.

After the vote, Marcel Florin, a Belgian delegate, walked out and took a train home to Brussels. An observer delegation from the International Union of Socialist Youth also left, informing the chairman it would have to seek fresh instructions regarding its future attitude on cooperation with UNESCO.

Among the private individuals who have withdrawn their support as a result of Spain's entry is famed Spanish cellist Pablo Casals,
a member of the organization's International Music Institute. Cas-als has refused to return to Spain
since the triumph of Generalissimo Francisco Franco in the Spanish Civil War.

Rosenbergs To Die In January

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman Friday set the week of Jan. 12 for the execution of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted atomic spies.

Last week the United States
Supreme Court refused for a second time to rehear the case of the husband and wife prisoners.
They were convicted March 29, 1951, of passing atomic secrets to Russia, and for many months
have been confined in the death
house at Sing Sing Prison.

RED STOOGES
"CONFESSES" TO CONSPIRACY

VIENNA (AP)—Bedrich Geminder,
the second of 14 former top Czech Communists charged with treason
in Prague's successor to the Moscow purge trials, Friday admitted conspiring to overthrow the present Communist government.

Geminder followed Rudolph Slan-
sky, former Communist party boss and vice premier, to the "confession" stand Friday morning, Radio
Prague said at mid-day yesterday.

Geminder was formerly leader of the Czech Party's Central Committee, often described as the "grey eminence" or secret power behind the party. He disappeared from his post in 1950, when he apparently was arrested.

The Prague Radio said that German-born Geminder had admitted working with Slansky to overthrow the government of President Kiement Gottwald and with conspiring to "re-establish capitalism."

Says He Was Zionist

The broadcast said he also had confessed that he was a "Zionist and cosmopolitan"—a Communist term meaning he was more sympathetic to Israel than to Moscow.

Geminder, the broadcast said,
admitted he also was the link between Slansky and Konni Zilliacus, British Laborite ex-member of Parliament, Slansky asserted Thursday that the Britisher was the link between all the "Titoist" elements behind the Iron Curtain. In London, Zilliacus termed the statement "quite fantastic" and said he had met Slansky only once, in 1947.

Geminder once was considered the Kremlin's chief spokesman in Prague. He was one of the secretaries of Georgi Dimitrov, executive secretary of the Cominform when it was founded in 1947. He became Slansky's chief assistant.

Longest Confession

Geminder, Prague Radio said,
was charged after the case against Slansky was completed. The five-man court sat late Thursday night to hear witnesses testify against Slansky after his full confession.

From Slansky, the Communists obtained perhaps the longest "confession" ever recorded.

Sounding like a soulless automaton, the former party secretary general admitted in the recording broadcast Thursday night that he had planned to become his country's Tito in a revolt against Moscow domination.

For more than three and a half hours, Slansky confessed that he had plotted murder, treason, sabotage and anti-Soviet activities for the past 25 years. For conviction on most of the charges, the maximum penalty is death by hanging.

The 51-year-old former Czech vice premier is one of two chief defendants in the trial which may develop into one of the biggest Communist propaganda shows in years. The other is former Foreign Minister Vlado Clementis, who was arrested in February, 1951.

The Prague Communist newspaper Rude Pravo, which reached Vienna Friday, carried the full text of the charges against the 44 defendants. It totaled more than 14, 000 words.

ALLIES IN WEEK

SEOUL (AP)—Allied warplanes, sweeping low over the highways and by-ways of North Korea, this week racked up the heaviest toll of Communist trucks in nearly a year
the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

The Air Force said 785 trucks were destroyed in the last seven days, the highest score since early January.

U. S. Sabre jets clashed with Communist MIG15s over North Korea today and pilots claimed one Red warplane destroyed and another probably destroyed.

It was the sixth straight day the Sabres scored against the MIGs.

Manv Want To See
Rosenbergs Executed

NEW YORK (AP)—In anger or curiosity, "countless" persons have expressed the desire to see the scheduled execution of convicted atom spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg.

Rosenberg, 34, and his wife, 36,
were convicted March 29, 1951,
of passing atomic secrets to a Russian spy ring. They have been confined since in the death house at Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N. Y.

Yesterday, Judge Irving R. Kaufman set their execution date for the week of Jan. 12. Only a pardon by President Truman will save them from the electric chair.

U. S. Marshal William A. Carroll said he has had "countless letters and telephone calls" from persons all over the country who want to witness the executions.

Only a handful of spectators are permitted in the death chamber.
Carroll said he will ask the Rosenbergs "whom they want to be present."

Ike Is Not President-Elect Until Approved By Congress

by ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Elmer Davis, the radio commentator, wrote the New York Times the other day to say, with tongue in cheek, that it had erred when it put this headline on an editorial:

"We have a president-elect."

"We have nothing of the sort," Davis said. He's right, of course. Dwight D. Eisenhower hasn't received a single vote for the presidency, even though he is so near the White House he has named three men to be cabinet officers.

The electors, picked in the voting on Nov. 4, meet in their state capitals on Dec. 15 and vote for a president. Their decision becomes official when their votes are counted by Congress on Jan. 6. Not until then is Eisenhower legally the president-elect.

Probably no other part of our federal government has come in for more criticism than the electoral college.

Called "Useless" Supreme Court Justice Jackson, with Justice Douglas agreeing, said it is "mystifying and distorting." Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts has called it a "relic of the past." The words "antiquated" and "useless" have been hurled at it again and again.

Yet for 150 years it has successfully withstood all assaults.

Two years ago it looked as if it might topple. Lodge, a Republican, and Rep. Ed Gossett, a Texas Democrat, introduced a proposed constitutional amendment to change the system.

Under the proposed amendment, the use of electors would be done away with. And, instead of all the state's electoral votes going to the candidate who carries the state, the electoral vote would be split in the same proportion as the popular vote.

The amendment passed the Senate, 64 to 23 (it needed a two-thirds majority). But opposition developed in both parties and it came a cropper in the House, with 134 votes for and 210 against.

Even had the House supported it by a two-thirds majority, the proposal still would have had to be accepted by three-fourths of the states before it became a part of our Constitution.

The electoral college is a reminder that the founding fathers set up a representative form of government. We make our laws through our representatives and senators. And, originally, the voters picked the men who were to pick our presidents.

As the political parties grew, the electors became little more than rubber stamps.

Why hasn't the electoral college been abandoned in favor of a direct vote for the president?

The most obvious answer is that it requires a change in the Constitution, and this nation always has been slow to make changes there.

Motorists who are all wrapped up in themselves often make rather small packages.

Matter Of Logic

Diagnosing car ailments is really a process of elimination, combined with a knack of thinking of the simple things at the right moments. I've seen people fuss and fume over the question as to where a noise originates yet never think to put their ear to it, or use a listening rod if the suspected part is in a less accessible or more hazardous position. When checking a car noise recently one mechanic knew instantly that the trouble was around the floorboards because he got what was definitely a wooden sounding board effect.

Sometimes the car diagnostician get his clues from some secondary effect. This is elementary but it will illustrate the point to mention the way a second mechanic will always switch on the lights and sound the horn when the starter-motor fails to spin. It's just his way of making sure that the battery isn't dead. Another example is the matter of engine bucking. This can be due to a lot of conditions but if there is smell of raw gasoline the diagnostician rightly suspects that the carburetor float bowl floods.

Matter Of Re-checking

One of the reasons why it is sometimes so difficult to locate a water leak around the cooling system is merely that the air from the fan dries off the evidence too rapidly. We lift the hood and the sort of leak that may develop only when the engine is operating just doesn't show up to our human eyes. There are some trick ways of putting phosphorescent chemicals into the water and then tracking leakage with black light, but such methods are not for you and me. What we need is just a little more patience and a willingness to look twice.

Picked Up En-route

It has been learned that a certain amount of the sludge on an oil filter element has filtration advantages which are lost when a high detergent lubricant is used. But the filter cartridge continues to serve to take out abrasives which are so detrimental to engine life. . . . Newest wrinkle in speedy washing of automobiles is the use of a three foot pit on each side of the car from which operators have a better view of what's needed by way of cleaning of wheels and lower parts of the body and chassis. . . . Many difficult starts where cars have been out of action for a week or so are due to fuel evaporating from the carburetor bowl because the choke valve failed to close. The choke can be tripped to the closed position, if it is the automatic type, merely by depressing the accelerator pedal.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"How light oil helps the starting process in cold weather is something not too many drivers appear to understand. They are right in picturing the lighter lube as flowing more freely and thus reaching the critical points more rapidly. But they are apt to overlook the fact that what provides the snappier start is the increase in compression.

"No matter how much battery current is provided an engine could crank all day without starting if the cranking speed were so low that normal compression could be not built up. Old timers remember that what provided the start was the quick pull on the hand crank."

For That Fast Stop

Making an emergency or "panic" stop must be broken down into three steps, if the driver is to avoid upsetting the car and throwing it into a skid. Most experienced drivers do this instinctively. At the first sign of danger they apply the brakes moderately in order to see if there is any tendency for a pull and also to condition them for the firm application which immediately follows. That first test will show how much tugging on the wheel is necessary, one way or the other. The final step is the pumping on the pedal, with brief release of braking power to help keep the brakes from locking the wheels.

Making Its Debut

The new year will find newsstands with a new magazine of special interest to automobilists. When CARS gets under way the public will find that it is a well-rounded publication covering auto-mobiling from every possible angle—not just something for sportsmen or hot rods, but a magazine which encompasses the whole range of motoring interest. Important is the fact that it is being launched by the Fawcett folk in New York who have such a string of top-flight magazines to their credit.

Motorists have been asking for this type of magazine ever since Motor Life passed from the picture years ago. Editor of CARS will be Arthur Unger who has been news editor for Mechanix Illustrated magazine for the last five years. Assisting him is Larry Cunningham who has done everything in the field from hot rodding in California to motocycling through Europe. The exact on-sale date isn't available at this writing, but the magazine will be on a bi-monthly basis for the first few months. It will have the same size as Fawcett's "True" which has also given us a lot of fine motoring stories.

Slip Of The Typewriter

Those of you who do me the honor of saving these columns in your motor scrap book will please excuse an error that crept into one of the autumn pieces. I was talking about testing the generator regulator and suggested the idea of removing, momentarily, the wire from the regulator marked "F" after the engine had run about ten minutes out in the open to warm up the generator. Never mind the blunder that came out of the typewriter because of the substitution of the letter "w" for "t," but the piece should have read: "Normally the ammeter pointer should not drop back to zero. If the regulator isn't on the job the ammeter pointer will drop back to zero."

With The Passing Years

In 1916 thirty-five new automobiles were brought on the American market, and not one of them is in production today. . . . Ten years later fifteen more came on the scene but only one remains. . . . In 1936 there were no new offerings, but eleven came in along in 1946. . . . Only one of these newcomers is currently in production. Can 1956 be far behind, and what will be the score then? There were 52 new makes in 1906 and of this group not one remains. The surviving car, however, is not the one which came into the picture in 1926.

Feeling Its Pulse

Many important things about a car can be determined by some very simple tests. For instance, if the windshield wipers slow down when you accelerate, and are below their normal speed at all positions of the throttle either there is a leak in the vacuum line or the vacuum pump part of the fuel pump is on the sick list. Brakes are likely to be draggy if you can push the car on a level smooth paving. If you rock either end of the car up and down, and the car doesn't come to a quick leveling off after you stop, the shock absorbers need attention.

Having Their Troubles

Q When my car has been standing for a week or so I have to pump on the accelerator pedal many times before the motor will start. What's wrong? H. J. N.

A This indicates that the carburetor float bowl goes dry. This isn't unusual. The pumping serves no purpose since there is no fuel in the bowl to be pumped and sprayed into the intake. Best way to solve this is to replace the fuel pump which is obviously so weak it doesn't refill the bowl promptly enough.

Q The engine of my car has just been rebuilt. How long should it be idled? H. B. K.

A This will depend on what work has been done on it. But don't slow idle it because this may foul the rings and cause it to run too hot. A good mechanic can tell by the feel of the engine, and by watching the instrument board gauges, how it is behaving.

Q I have been told that someone has invented steel inner-springs for rubber tires to eliminate the need for air pressure. Is this true? Wm. L. F.

A Yes, Antonio Pieroni of Italy is the inventor.

Q Is it every necessary to re-groove pistons if they are made of aluminum? J. B.

A I understand that about 75 per cent of all aluminum alloy pistons either must be re-grooved or replaced when new rings are installed.

Q Is it all right to use the propeller shaft parking brake for a stop, if the service brakes fail? N. N. McE.

A This would be the normal step in an emergency. The makers of cars using this type parking brake advise against using the brake for stopping the car while it is in motion, but old timers remember when the service brake of the car was right there in the same spot as the parking brake now found on some of the current cars.

Q It is true that oil lasts indefinitely and that we are foolish to be changing oil every thousand miles? L. G. V.

A This would be true if you

CHAPLAIN KORTE IS SPEAKER FOR TEACHERS' MEET

The Rev. Edwerth E. Korte, chaplain at Gettysburg College, was the guest speaker at the in-service training meeting of the teachers of the Littlestown Joint School System held on Friday afternoon at the high school. The Rev. Mr. Korte addressed the group on the subject "Moral and Spiritual Values." The theme of the meeting was a follow-up on the conferences which the teachers of the Jointure attended at the various colleges during the past summer. A faculty meeting followed the in-service training session and routine business was conducted.

Past Presidents' night was observed at the second November meeting of the Littlestown Lions Club, held on Thursday evening at Banker's Restaurant, S. Queen St. The Rev. Porter W. Seiwel, pastor of Grace Reformed Church, Shippenburg, was the guest speaker for the occasion. The speaker, a past president of the Shippenburg Lions Club, addressed the group on the subject "This Life We Are Living." The Rev. Mr. Seiwel is on several boards of the Mercersburg Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church; the board of directors of Camp Michaux and the Student Christian Acting board. Each past president of the club was presented with a white carnation boutonniere, through the courtesy of Lion J. Harvey Pettyjohn. All past presidents of the club were in attendance, but two, one of whom is now a member of the Glen Rock club. The program was arranged by the Publicity Committee consisting of Marvin F. Breighner, William S. Menges and J. Harvey Pettyjohn.

Vote Contributions
A meeting of the board of directors followed the regular session, with the president, John D. Basehear, in charge. A contribution of $5 was voted to the Adams County Tuberculosis Society and $12 was voted to purchase a set of lens for glasses for an adult of the community. The club decided to enter a float in the community Christmas parade to be held Friday, Dec. 5. The committee in charge of arrangements for the float is composed of Wilbur E. Mackley, chairman, Clayton L. Evans, Paul L. Hollinger and George A. Maitland. It was announced that the garbage disposal cans, which were purchased by the club and distributed throughout the community, were collected and repainted and will be re-distributed in the near future. The next meeting will be held Thursday, Dec. 4, 7 p.m., at Banker's, in charge of the Citizenship and Patriotism Committee consisting of Harry J. Koontz, Paul H. Scheivert and John N. Sell. The Youth Fellowship of St. Mary's Reformed Church, Silver Run, will meet on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the social room of the church. Visiting ministers and various church groups have been invited to attend this meeting.

Joint Dinner Held

Approximately 60 were in attendance at the joint dinner meeting of the American Legion, Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321 and its Ladies' Auxiliary, held on Thursday evening at the Legion Home, East King St. Mrs. Wilbur E. Mackley, Mrs. James W. Fager and Mrs. Vernon Study were in charge of preparing the meal.

Following the dinner, the Legion met with Commander J. Donald Lemmon presiding. The adjutant, Gilbert Royston, gave his report. Belvon Hanlon was received into the post membership. It was requested that members having rifles belonging to the Legion should return them at their earliest convenience. The post is again conducting a drive for old or broken toys to be repaired and distributed among the needy children of the community at Christmas time. A lot of toys have already been received and Legionnaires are asked to go to the post home and assist in repairing them, at their convenience. The next regular meeting will be held Thursday, December 4, at 7:30 p.m.

"But in the end, the efforts of State College, the educational program carried on by the extension agents, the work of the officers of the various organizations set up to help farmers, are only as valuable as the individual farmer wants them to be to him. The information is there if the farmer wants the help, and uses it. If he doesn't want it, or doesn't use it, nothing can be done about it."

Assistant County Agent Fred H. Attinger told of the work of the 127 youngsters, most between the ages of 10 and 13, in the seven 4-H agriculture clubs in the county. The county dairy calf club with 35 members and the Baby Beef Club with 23 members should be expanded to a membership of 50 each during the next two years, Attinger said. "Today we reach only 10 per cent of the number of children who could be in 4-H work," Attinger said. "And most of the difficulty in increasing the number of clubs and membership is based on the difficulty of obtaining local leadership. We made a survey of farm youth to find out why they did not belong to 4-H clubs and the answer of the great majority was 'we weren't asked.' The number of clubs is growing however, and we should have 13 community clubs within two more years, compared to five today. Membership increased from 91 last year to 127 this year, and interest in the clubs indicates we will reach 200 members in a year or two."

Miss Mary Jane Mickey reported on the work of the adult and 4-H home economics groups in the county.

ROBERT P. SNYDER 315 Buford Avenue Gettysburg, Pennsylvania or to his attorney: Eugene R. Hartman 138 Baltimore Street Gettysburg, Pennsylvania

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden doubts that the Chinese Communists will accept the Indian proposal for a compromise solution of the Korean War prisoner deadlock, it was learned today.

But the top British diplomat feels that a Red Chinese refusal may not be altogether a bad thing since it might weaken ties of sympathy between the Peiping Communist regime and the Indian government.

Eden made some of his private views known to a hush-hush meeting of British news correspondents. No Americans were invited but Eden's ideas were soon made known to representatives of U. S. news organs.

The British foreign secretary also said he felt his close wartime personal relationship with U. S. President-elect Eisenhower had been re-established during a visit with Eisenhower Thursday.

He declared a belief that Anglo-American relations would continue close and constructive under the new Republican administration.

NATION'S MAJOR LABOR GROUPS ARE LEADERLESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's two big labor organizations were pilotless today in a sudden twist of fate unforeseeable two weeks ago.

William Green, 81-year-old president of the American Federation of Labor, died yesterday just 12 days after the death of CIO President Philip Murray. Heart trouble was the cause in both cases.

It was Murray who took a leading part in the breakaway from Green's AFL in 1935. Murray played a major role in developing the industrial unionism of the late 1930s and making the Congress of Industrial Organizations a new and independent force in the union movement.

Vacuum To Fill Quickly Both Green and Murray were coal miners and their success was intertwined with that of a third mine worker, John L. Lewis.

Lewis is president of the United Mine Workers. He is 72 and appears as active today as he ever has been.

The sudden vacuum at the top of the AFL and CIO will almost certainly be filled quickly. Some union leaders speculated quietly today that, no matter which two men are chosen to head the AFL and CIO, organized labor's new leadership faces a new era.

May Affect Unity Murray and Green were in the prime of their years when the Democrats took over the national administration 20 years ago. Working in general harmony with the administration, they saw the labor movement take some of its greatest strides as they grew old in their jobs. Coinciding with their deaths was the election of the first Republican administration since 1932.

One top union official, declining use of his name, said it was too early to make any predictions about the future course of the divided labor movement under new leaders. But he said the death of Murray and Green might have real implications in repeated attempts to explore the feasibility of CIO-AFL unity. Such attempts have proved entirely fruitless since the split 17 years ago.

The AFL claims a membership of eight million, the CIO six million. If the prospect of unity is to be enhanced, it will depend a good deal on whom these two big labor groups choose as their next presidents.

Many Most Likely Green had been ailing for months and much of his work passed into the hands of George Meany, 58-year-old secretary-treasurer since 1940. Meany in effect has been running the AFL, with frequent contact with Green, for a year or more. It is this fact which makes Meany the most frequently mentioned prospect for AFL president.

The AFL Executive Council is expected to meet soon after Green's funeral next Monday. The council will likely designate a president to serve until the AFL annual convention next year.

George Harrison, 57-year-old president of the AFL's Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, is also mentioned as a possible successor to Green. However, there was always a possibility some other AFL leader might be selected.

Allan S. Haywood, CIO executive vice president, and Walter Reuther, head of the CIO Auto Workers are generally conceded to be front-runners for the job which Murray's death left vacant. Murray's successor probably will be named at the CIO annual convention in Atlantic City, scheduled for this week but postponed upon Murray's death to Dec. 1.

Judy Garland Has Daughter On Friday

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Singer Judy Garland gave birth by Caesarean section yesterday to a baby girl.

Her husband is agent Sid Luft, whom she married June 8 in Hollywood, Calif.

The child weighed 6 pounds 4 ounces, and nurses described her as a "chunky baby girl who looks just like her mother."

Groucho Gets Custody Of Daughter, Aged 6

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Groucho Marx is going to take care of his 6-year-old daughter, Melinda, for awhile.

Marx's divorced wife, Kay Marie Marx, is ill, and signed an agreement which a court approved yesterday, giving the TV and radio comedian custody until she recovers.

Mrs. Marx was granted custody at the divorce hearing in 1950.

AMERICANS ARE NOT IN PANIC OVER "H-BOMB"

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The explosion of an H-bomb weapon in the Pacific may have startled the diplomatic world. The average American, however, took little more note of it than if, on a summer night, he had glanced up and seen a star fall.

Previous tidings of other new and marvelous ways in which the human race could destroy itself have exhausted his capacity for terror and dismay.

The ordinary mortal today is tired of being frightened by graphic previews of what may befall him. He has eaten the bread of crisis so long it has come to have a stale taste.

Upset By A-Bomb

People were so upset over the atom bomb that the wider threat of the H-bomb can hardly appall them. You have to rest from fear sometime, and the average man feels like taking a seventh-inning stretch right now.

"So maybe I'll get conked sometime by an H-bomb instead of an atom bomb," he thinks, "what difference does it make to a fly whether it is swatted by a rolled up newspaper or a baseball bat?"

He is also losing his ability to marvel at the fresh marvels of science, because so many of its wonders turn out to be blunders. This has been a fearful and tremendous century of strident and continuous change, multiple death and vast growth. It is perhaps the most adventurous and exploratory century in history, one that has thrown a small candle of light into the darkness of strange new worlds which seem to many more terrifying than inviting.

Had Many Worries

A man who is only as old as this century—just 52 years—has endured a lot. He has weathered at least three depressions and two and a half world wars. When he pauses to catch his breath and look back, it seems to him that nothing has remained unchanged with the possible exception of mother love.

The ordinary mortal would like science to quit dealing up fresh mass-death instruments and build him instead an escape hatch from the perils of the 20th century.

But in his heart he knows the wry truth: There is no escape hatch. A man must live in the time he has been allotted, and face its tasks with what courage and kindness and hope he can muster. It is bad enough to feel like one floating alone on a broken spar in an unknown sea. But there is no point in anyone in that plight worrying about the possibility of a hurricane. He has trouble enough already, and that is why the average American today isn't in any panic over the H-bomb.

The famed pony express which carried mail to and from California lasted only 16 months, starting in 1860.

22-INCH SNOW IS DUMPED ON TENNESSEE AREA

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A quirk of shifting air masses dumped up to 22 inches of snow yesterday on mountain areas of four Southern States—Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia and Kentucky—paralyzing communications and transportation for many hours.

Despite rapid melting caused by relatively high ground temperatures, the unexpected storm left a large area of ill-prepared Dixie looking like a polar outpost. The snow blanket measured 10 inches here early today.

It was by far the heaviest fall every recorded here and possibly the heaviest ever recorded this far south. But the resulting snarl in normal community living did not approach the intensity of the three-day ice storm which struck Tennessee and other Southern states early in 1951.

This city of 125,000 had a total fall estimated officially at 22 inches during the 24-hour period yesterday. The precipitation in terms of water measured 2.32 inches.

This was the highest figure reported from the affected areas, but communications were still blacked out to many mountain areas to the east early today.

Briefly, here was the situation in other states: Kentucky—Three to five inches of snow in the southeastern mountains. Football fans advised not to try to make the trip to Knoxville. Harlan and Middleboro areas isolated.

Virginia Hit

Virginia—Four to 12 inches of snow in southwestern mountains. Telephone and telegraph lines down. Five to six hours delay on telephone calls and similar delays in train schedules. Primary highways clear. Few secondary roads blocked by high water, but no dangerous flood conditions.

The final service of a two-weeks evangelistic series at Bermudian Church of the Brethren will take place Sunday evening, November 23, at 7:30, with Elder Robert Cocklin, Newville. Elder Cocklin will also deliver the worship sermon at 10:30 a.m.

Miss Marian Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Hess, Dillsburg, has been added to the Glee Club of Lebanon Valley College, Annville.

Says Wilson Will Go To Korea With Ike

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors' Charles E. Wilson, newly chosen secretary of defense for President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's cabinet, will go with the general to Korea, according to a report published here today.

The Detroit Times, quoting "executives close to Wilson," said that the GM president, named to the cabinet job Thursday, will make the trip with Eisenhower.
